P.G. Diploma in Dairy Management

The Dairy Management course is already a popular course among the youths of India due to its wide scope of lucrative career opportunities. Moreover, it is a study of both technical and management aspects of dairy science. For years India has the record of having the world's largest cattle population and dairy sector. It has always been the productive asset and strength of India. The Dairy Industry in India has already extended its sources of production across various parts of the country. Unlike every industry, the dairy industry also needs proper experts in the field to manage its daily operations.

This is where the Dairy Management course comes into play by providing analytical and innovative management skills to its students. It is designed to produce efficient professionals who can handle the production, planning, and management of dairy farms and dairy co-operatives. This article briefly covers all the important details of the course.
