

Advance Diploma in Library Management

Diploma in Library Science is a Diploma level Library Science course. A Diploma in Library Science provides, students, knowledge and develops their skills in library procedures and techniques. Students will learn traditional and computer-based library management skills that will help students administer and organize the extensive amount of information that exists in the world and is stored in the library. The diploma course is an important one and providing many career opportunities after its successful passing both in the private and government sectors.

Diploma in Library Science Syllabus

Syllabus of Library Science as prescribed by various Universities and Colleges.

Sr. No.	Subjects of Study
1	Archives Management
2	Information Retrieval
3	Documentation
4	Research Methods for Library Science
5	Concepts of Library Cataloguing Theory
6	Concepts of Library Classification Theory
7	Elements of Library Management
8	Understanding Library and Society