PG Diploma in Fashion and Dress Design

Post Graduate Diploma in Fashion Designing is a Diploma level Fashion Designing course. In the current competitive environment, a fashion designer needs to be equipped with knowledge, skills and a professional attitude to give shape to creative ideas through technical interpretation. The Post-Graduate Diploma in Fashion Design is an opportunity to take up a creative career in clothing. It holds great potential for employment opportunities in the rapidly expanding designer label, luxury brands, apparel retail brands and ready-to-wear fashion industry. The special feature of the course is that it provides for a broad intake of graduates from any discipline to imbibe an integrated approach to design technical subjects with thorough market understanding. The course provides opportunities to students to gain live experience through industry interaction, internship and live projects to learn and better professional practices. It helps develop students with a holistic perspective of the complete product development process right from concept to consumer.
