Post Graduate Diploma In Information Technology Engineering

Description

Post Graduate Diploma in Information Technology (PGDIT) is a postgraduate diploma level course. The programme has been designed to produce IT postgraduates who are able to think critically and have several high-level skills in the IT field that can be applied in a wide range of situations. This diploma will also introduce you to research in IT. The program's unique focus on the management of technology effectively prepares students for successful careers in the dynamic and fast-paced information technology marketplace.

Course Content

Principles and Practices of Management	Business Requirement Analysis
Business Communication	Project Management (IT)
Information Technology Concepts	Business Applications and ERP
Database Management Systems	Software Engineering with UML
Algorithms and Programming Concepts	Current Trends in IT
Software Quality Management	Business Process Modelling
Data Warehousing and Data Mining	Cloud Computing